

NICOLAI HINRICHSEN, ESQ.

EXPERIENCE

Miller Mayer, LLP, Ithaca, NY

Associate, May 2006 – present

Immigration law, including all types of business and family-based immigration matters. Emphasis in EB-5 Immigrant Investor and Regional Center applications.

Sidley Austin, San Francisco, California

Corporate Associate, August 2000 – December 2004

Advised companies and investment banks in registered and private securities offerings and on other corporate legal matters. Negotiated and drafted prospectuses, offering memoranda, underwriting agreements, indentures and all related offering documentation. Supervised and trained junior associates and paralegals.

Case Corporation, Paris, France

In-house Counsel, July 1998 – June 2000; Legal Intern, Summer 1997

General corporate law and mergers and acquisitions for construction and agricultural equipment manufacturer with annual revenues of $6 billion. Responsible for handling Case's legal issues arising in Europe, Russia, Africa and the Middle East, including: the negotiation and production of dealer, distributor, representative, technology and licensing agreements; litigation management; employment contracts; and Foreign Corrupt Practices Act and European Union compliance.

EDUCATION AND LICENSES

Boston University School of Law, JD degree, 1998

- Paul J. Liacos Scholar; Edward F. Hennessey Scholar
- Selected for advanced program in EU law at Leiden University, the Netherlands
- Assistant Editor, Boston University International Law Journal; published The Constitutional Objection to European Union Membership: A Challenge for the Danish Supreme Court, Boston University International Law Journal, Fall 1997

University of California at Berkeley, BA in Philosophy, 1994

Member, the New York Bar (1998) and the California Bar (2001)

LANGUAGES & INTERESTS

Fluent Danish, conversational French; Danish citizen with green card and EU passport.

Former professional chef in France; enjoy golf, tennis, skiing, painting and traveling.